

Study Abroad in Fukuoka!

Fukuoka – a city popular with international students

Some 9,000 students from 98 countries and regions study in Fukuoka Prefecture – the third highest number in Japan after Tokyo and Osaka.

Many excellent universities

Fukuoka is home to 38 universities (including 10 for science and technology), 20 junior colleges and 3 specialized vocational schools, where some 130,000 students currently study.

Living expenses lower than national average

Monthly living expenses (including academic fees) for an international student in Fukuoka are lower than the national average. Compared with Tokyo, rent is roughly halved and living costs can be cut down by 25%.

The Path to study in Fukuoka from India

How can I study in Japan?...Will I be able to live in Japan where living cost is very expensive?

At that time, came to know about Fukuoka Fair which was going to be held in Delhi from my friend who was studying with me in language school.

Fukuoka?... I think about Japan I know only Tokyo and Osaka. At first let's participate!

Mr. Gautam wanted to study Japanese language in Japan so he discussed with the Japanese School Staff.

School will introduce part time job and if I study well I can get scholarship too...

Fukuoka is one of the center city in west Japan and living cost is also reasonable so it seems easy to live ...

As a result of accumulating so much information, I decided to study in the school which participated in the fair. I directly contacted the school, after spending 3 months in doing all procedures through mail and phone, finally I got admission in 2011 October.

While studying in the `admission to university course` and doing the part time job at the front & lobby service at hotel, I tried to up my Japanese language skills. After passing the university own exam and EJU exam I got admission into university.

Admission fee & Tuition fee :

First yr. 4.8 lakh INR (Admission fee 1.4 lakh INR include) , from 2nd yr. 3.6 lakh INR

Hostel fee : 12,000 INR monthly

Scholarship (JASSO) : 29,000 INR monthly (1 year system)

Part time job Salary : 60,000 INR month, Got some extra money from my parents

Presently, studying International management at Kyushu Sangyo University in Japanese medium.

Admission fee : 1.4 lakh INR

Tuition fee : 3.6 lakh INR (from 2nd yr. just tuition fee)

House rent : 15,000 INR monthly

Scholarship : Applied

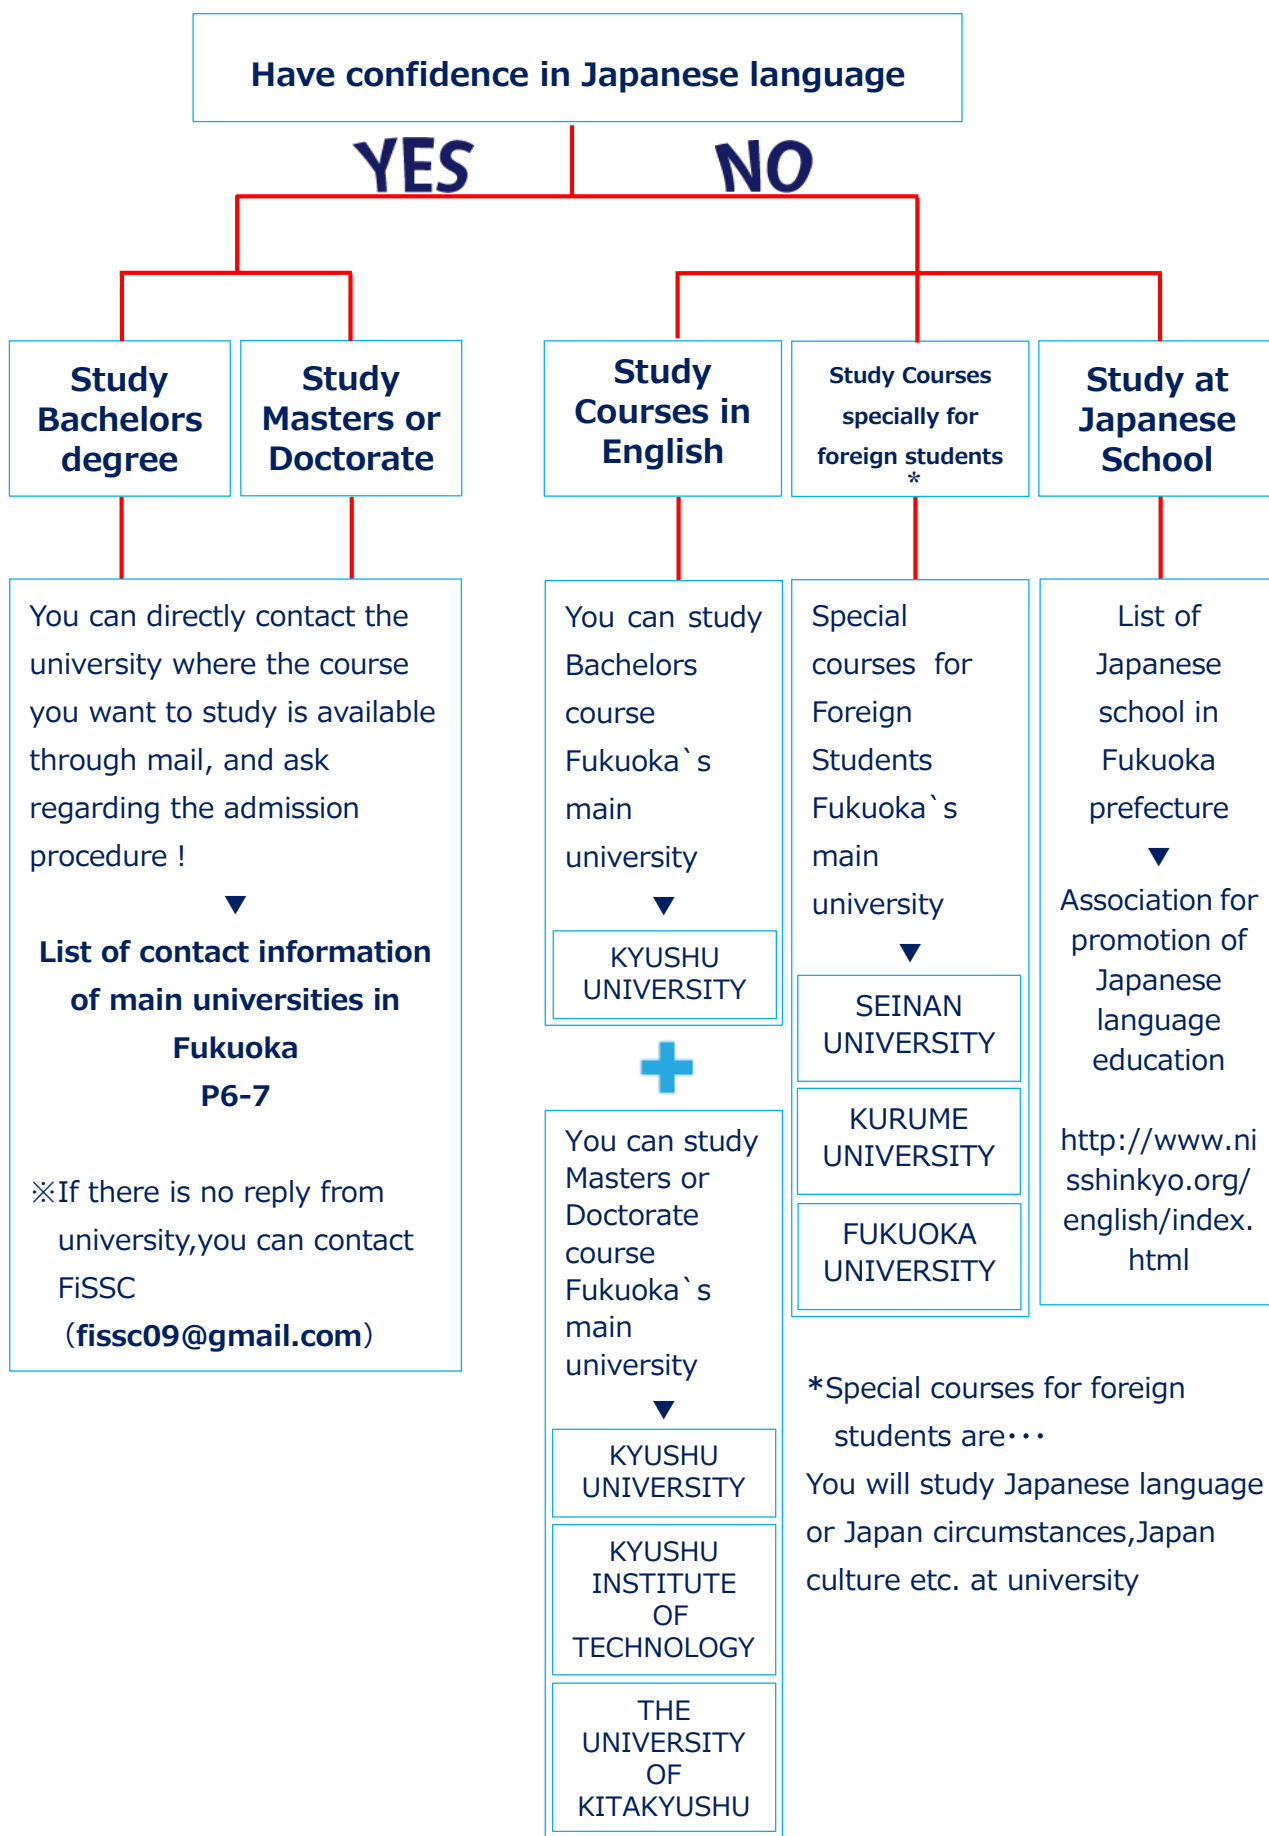

Part time job salary : 60,000 INR monthly

For those who are thinking of studying in Fukuoka, Japan

Tuition fee in Japan is expensive but if you study sincerely you can get scholarship. If you study in Japan you can not only improve your language proficiency but you can also know about the Japanese culture and the way Japanese people thinks, which will be an asset when you work with Japanese people. After graduating I want to work in a company in Japan which is having business relation with Indian company.
